

Nuclear News

Nuclear News is the monthly magazine of the American Nuclear Society (annual membership dues for individuals include a subscription as a primary benefit). It covers the latest developments in the nuclear field, a large part of which concerns nuclear energy-in particular, the 104 operating U.S. nuclear power plants, and another 334 operating elsewhere around the globe. Coverage includes plant operations, maintenance, security, international developments, waste management, fuel, industry, employment and workforce issues, and education and training.

Published as the mid-April issue of Nuclear News, the annual Buyers Guide directory lists nearly 900 worldwide suppliers of products and services to the nuclear industry. This comprehensive listing contains 470 categories representing the wide range of nuclear components and services available today. The Buyers Guide is included with the regular subscription to Nuclear News.

ANS News

ANS News is the American Nuclear Society's newsletter covering society and member activities. News is welcome from all constituencies of the society-Professional Divisions, Local Sections, Plant Branches, and Student Sections-as well as from individual members.

Radwaste Solutions

Radwaste Solutions is a bimonthly specialty magazine containing articles that discuss practical approaches and solutions to everyday problems and issues in all fields of radioactive waste management and environmental restoration. Included is coverage of the generation, handling, removal, treatment, cleanup, and disposal of radioactive (including mixed) waste. Articles are contributed by people working with utilities and those involved in U.S. Department of Energy site work, in the medical, legal, university, consulting, and commercial areas, as well as from all levels of government.

The annual November/December Radwaste Solutions Buyers Guide is a directory of products, materials, and services that relate directly to the business of radioactive waste management and site cleanup and remediation. In this directory, more than 800 companies in almost 350 categories are listed in an easy-to-use format that will help in locating the products and services your utility/plant needs.
