Together, writing stories of success.

Strengthening compliance and protecting infrastructure in our industry is a must for efficient, long-term plant operations. Framatome has been developing cybersecurity programs worldwide for nuclear and non-nuclear assets since 2012.

To provide you with robust cybersecurity and industrial computing solutions, we recently acquired FoxGuard Solutions. FoxGuard has a team of engineers and developers that design, manufacture and integrate innovative cybersecurity, computing and regulatory compliance solutions that are used in critical infrastructure markets. FoxGuard Solutions is Framatome’s center of expertise for cybersecurity in North America offering a robust portfolio of products and services.
