

Dependable systems for nuclear decommissioning tasks

Automated solutions produced by KUKA Systems UK are helping the nuclear decommissioning industry to prove and develop a range of waste handling and treatment processes.

Standard KUKA robots equipped with bespoke tooling are being used to undertake a series of tasks such as removing waste from skips, placing waste on to a sorting table for size reduction and depositing waste items into box liners.

www.kuka.com

Visit our stand 201 to learn more about our unique joystick controls.
March 18 - 22, Phoenix, USA