Student Member Referral Contest & Team Contest

Help ANS recruit student members by encouraging friends and classmates to join the leading association for students and professionals in the nuclear science and technology field.

Individual Contest

For each referral that joins between now and January 15, the referring member will be entered into a drawing for one of three $100 Amazon gift cards. Multiple referrals are encouraged! One entry will be awarded for each referral that joins as an ANS national member. Referrals must join by January 15 to be eligible for an entry.

BONUS: The first 20 students to recruit a new member will receive one extra entry into the contest!

Student Section Team Contest

The Student Section that recruits the most members by January 15 will win $500 in ANS dollars. ANS dollars can be used toward ANS National Conference or Student Conference registrations, membership dues, or the ANS online store.

How to refer a member

To receive credit for referring a member and be entered in the contest, ask your friends or classmates to list your name on their student member application.
